Peek&Cloppenburg

The journey

- ▶ We choose to drive in Kennet's car to Düsseldorf
- ▶ The journey itself took about 8-9 hours, because of traffic and a small accident on the way. But we arrived in Düsseldorf Saturday evening, where we got to see the house which we stayed at.

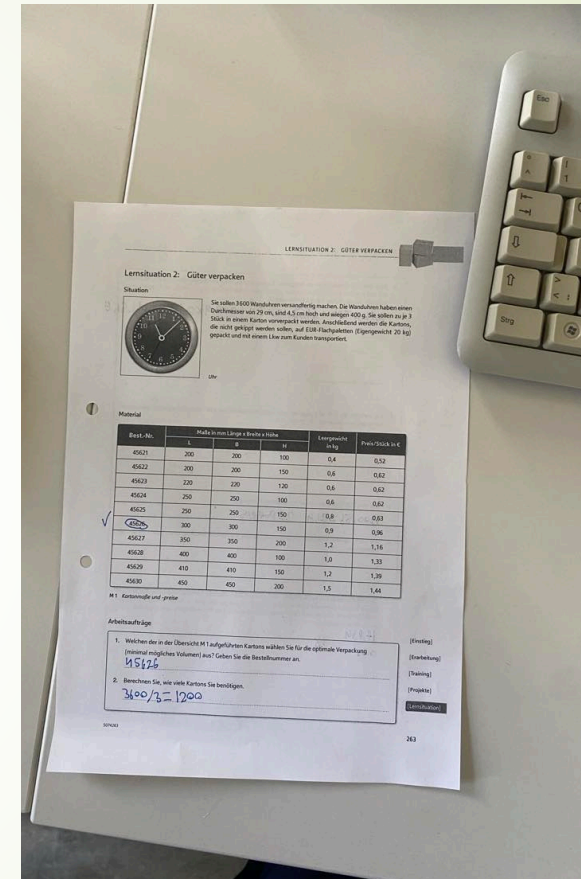

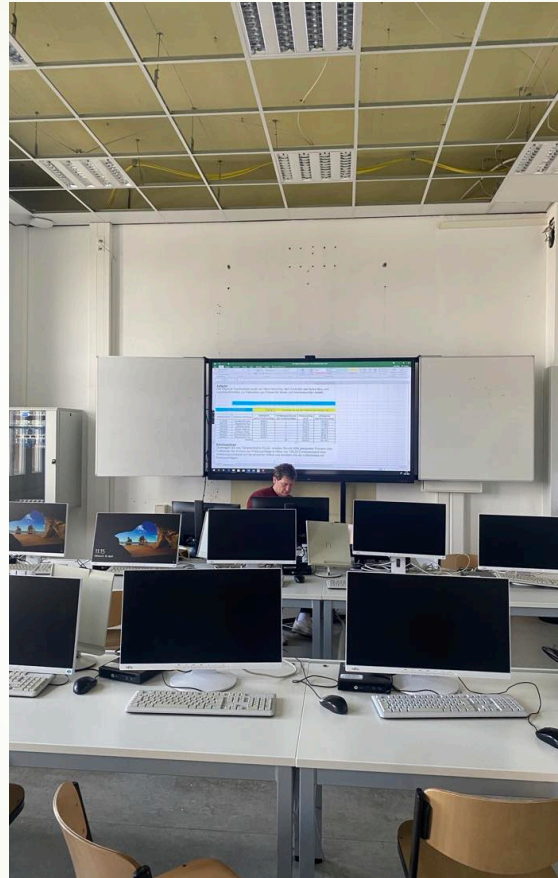

First week

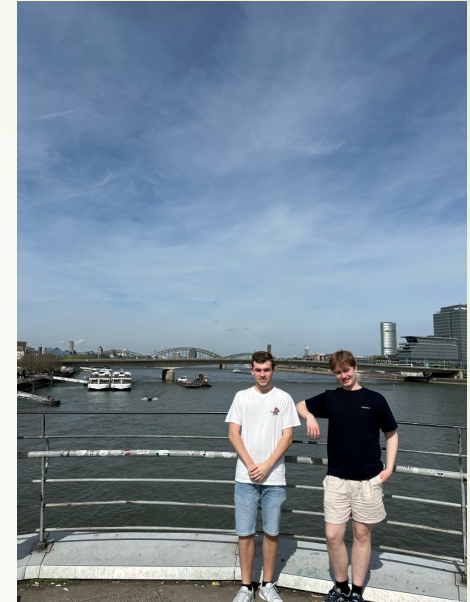

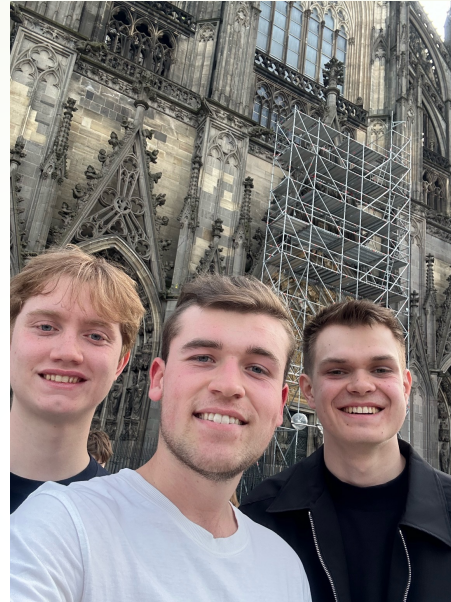

- On the first day at work, we got a tour around the warehouse and in the shop
- We went on a trip to Bedburg for a visit to their central warehouse and get a tour inside the warehouse in Bedburg
- The first week at Peek & Cloppenburg, we tried their picking system, receiving goods, sorting hangers for clothes and also clothing, while rearranging their merchandise in the store.

School

- The first week we had logistic, math and social studies. In logistic and math, we got tasks, we needed to solve and talked about it in class afterwards. In social studies they talked about a test they were going to have the next week and we talked about what we did in Denmark.
- The second week they had a test in logistic and in social studies. Which meant studying a text and answering question regarding that specific text.

Köln

On day 6 we saw Köln, there we were shown around in the Kölner dome and at a chocolate factory

Second week

- We went on a visit to one of the smaller warehouses in Langenfeld and got a tour, where they showed us how it works.
- The second week in peek & cloppenburg, we did a lot of the same thing as in the first week. It was things such as putting clothes in the correct place, and we did more picking and got to try it ourselves and receiving goods.

The last day at work

- The Erasmus project invited us out on a trip through Düsseldorf, where we got some local beers and got shown around in the old part of Düsseldorf
- They invited us out to dinner at a local restaurant, that started out as a brewery and today it's both

The journey home

- ▶ We drove back in Kennet's car.
- ▶ The drive home was not as long. It took about 7 hours, and we stopped at Fleggaard, to buy some alcohol, sodas and candy

Our Experience with Erasmus+

- We would recommend other students to do the Erasmus+ project
- We thought that it was good to see how some companies was running their warehouses
